Re: Damiano Barile Engineers, P.C.

To whom it may concern:

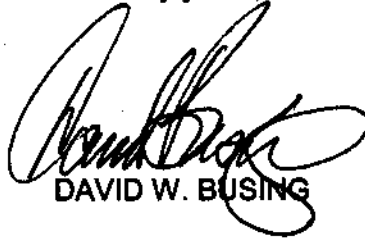

We have worked with Damiano Barile Engineers, P.C. and their predecessor firm, Damiano Consulting, on many projects over the past thirty years.

Damiano Barile Engineers has provided us with mechanical and electrical engineering services for a wide variety of clients including corporations, governments and institutions and for projects with many diverse requirements and budgets. We are presently working with them on a new Infusion Center at the Dickstein Cancer Center of White Plains Hospital Medical Center.

We have always found them to be skilled and professional in providing well thought out designs, preparing well executed Construction Documents and in providing thorough Construction Phase services. We particular like the ease of working with them because of their responsiveness to development issues and their flexibility in adapting to project requirements.

We look forward to working with Damiano Barile Engineers on future projects and recommend them enthusiastically.

Sincerely yours,

DAVID W. BUSING
